

Carbon Monoxide Concerns

Remember, carbon monoxide is an odorless, colorless gas that can cause sudden illness and death.

Using gas or charcoal grills, lanterns or generators inside or near your home may allow carbon monoxide fumes to enter the home causing a dangerous situation.

— Carbon Monoxide Illness Symptoms —

- Headache
- Dizziness
- Weakness
- Nausea
- Vomiting
- Nausea or vomiting
- Chest Pain
- Confusion

If you think that you may be experiencing carbon monoxide poisoning, leave your house immediately and call 911.